Stockcube Research Limited, a subsidiary of Stockcube plc has launched a technical research service in association with Comdirect, the UK's second biggest online stockbroker.

The service is based on point and figure (P&F) charting from Investor Intelligence, a division of Stockcube Research Limited. This has been used both by institutions and private individuals in the United States for over 50 years. The UK service researches over 1000 stocks on a daily basis and places comdirect clients at the forefront of stockmarket analysis.

Commercial Director of Investor Intelligence, Rusty Ashman, said:
"We are delighted to be associated with comdirect and to be able to provide our research direct to comdirect's customers. As an independent provider of technical research and analysis services we are confident that the quality of our work will be able to match the excellence achieved by comdirect's brokerage services."

Head of Business Development at comdirect, Neil Jamieson, said:
"Our clients want increasingly professional tools to help manage their stock portfolios. A tie-up with Investors Intelligence ensures that we can help meet those demands.
